

Effective Performance Documentation

(2014/09/15)

This webinar brought to you by WD Communications and ICE, explains that an effective performance document is one of the most beneficial ways to motivate employees to repeat positive behaviors and change negatives ones. Mike Mannon, President and CEO, WD Communications walks you through the ins and outs of simple performance tracking, documentation, and coaching in this one-hour webinar. Afterward, you'll be able to spot incorrect performance documentation immediately, and you'll start documenting and coaching in more meaningful and appropriate ways.

WD Communications offers Specialized Training through customized seminars and webinars developed to improve workplace communication and efficiency. Visit www.wdcommunications.com or contact Mike Mannon and be sure to mention ICE.
